TERM OF COURT OPENS TODAY

There is Much Business to be Transacted During the September Term

Criminal Cases Will be Disposed of Before Civil Docket Comes up in Court.

The September term of the Rushville circuit court opened this morning and there are enough cases on the docket to keep the judge, jury and court reporter busy for several weeks to come. There are several criminal and State cases to come up and as soon as these cases are wiped off the docket or disposed of in some other manner the civil docket will come up for the rest of the term and there promises to be enough on hands to keep everyone busy.

Practically all of the State cases are against saloon keepers on indictments returned by the grand jury last February for selling liquor after hours, to minors, for allowing minors to loiter or play pool or for gambling.

Most of today was devoted to calling the docket and making up the issues.

The court calendar for the term is as follows:

Sept. 4th, docket and issues; Sept. 5th, State vs. Bowman, embezzlement. This case cannot be tried unless Bowman is recaptured. Sept. 6th State vs. Dennis Ryan, and State vs. August Roth; Sept. 7th, State vs. Clyde Miller and State vs. James Geraghty; Sept. 8th, State vs. James Barrett and State vs. John McCarty; Sept. 9th, State vs. J. S. Beale, and State vs. Clarence Hiner; Sept. 11th, Owen L. Carr vs. John W. Allison, partnership and accounting; Sept. 13th, State vs. Timothy McGrath, assault and battery upon Francis Moore, with intent to kill; Sept. 14th, State vs. Miller, and State vs. Burnstein; Sept. 15th, State vs. Clyde Miller, perjury and State vs. Jesse Shuck, gambling; Sept. 16th, State vs. Jesse Reddick, and State vs. James Cassidy; Sept. 18th, Sinder vs. the Connersville Ice Co., on an account; Sept. 19th, Mathews vs. Mathews, a claim against the estate of Mary J. Mathews, deceased; Sept. 20th, Oglesby vs. the U. S. Express Co., damages; Sept. 21st, Schlosser vs. Schlosser, divorce, venued from Hancock county; Sept. 22d, Shook vs. Mull, a claim; Sept. 23d, Wise vs. Link, a claim; Sept. 25th, Howard vs. the Indianapolis Citizens' Street Railway Co., damages; Sept. 26th and 27th, open; Sept. 28th, State vs. P. A. Miller.

Alfred Pearsey has been appointed bailiff for the grand jury.

In court today some of the cases against saloon keepers were disposed of.

Seven cases against Denny Ryan were nolledd upon motion of the prosecuting attorney, John H. Kiplinger.

Three cases Ryan pleaded guilty, and fined $10 and costs in each. On one large to which he pleaded guilty he is fined $50 and costs and on another was fined $25 and costs. All of the cases were paid.

Clyde Miller pleaded guilty to one case against him and was fined $10 and costs.

Thomas Sullivan pleaded guilty to three charges, upon each of which was fined $10 and costs and to other upon which he was fined $5 and costs. Four cases against him were nolledd upon motion of the prosecuting attorney.

August Roth pleaded guilty to one charge against him, and was fined $10 and costs. The other cases against him were nolledd.

The case of Byron Westerfield vs. Charles E. Montanye on an attachment, was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiff.

Mrs. J. Burkett has returned home from Hartwell, O., after a visit with Mr. Mrs. Albert Lambert.

James D. Sloan and wife, of Indianapolis, came Saturday night to Rushville and Monday with Mr. Mrs. Frank Windeler and other friends. Mr. Sloan is still working for the Parry Manufacturing company in Indianapolis.

AS GOOD AS A MINT

Is George Ade's Pen For Making Money.—His Income is $150,000 a Year.

George Ade is getting rich so fast that he doesn't know what to do with his money, says a New York press dispatch. A conservative estimate of his earnings this year is $150,000. In the coming season he will have ten companies on the road paying him royalties. This is a record which is believed, has not been equaled by any other American playwright.

Ade went to a friend a few days ago and confessed confidently to him that he was in a quandary to know what to do with the money that is pouring in on him. "Get married," his friend advised. "Then your money will go fast enough."

Ade smiled.

"If it's a question of money or matrimony," he said, "give me the money."

In addition to the royalties from his plays, Ade will receive remuneration from seven books, and he has just contracted to write a story embracing nearly all the rural types in his different plays. He will also have a playlet, "On His Uppers," at vaudeville houses. Two companies will appear in "The College Widow," two in "The County Chairman," and one each in "The Sultan of Sulu," "Peggy from Paris," "The Shogun," "The Bad Samaritan" and "Just Out of College."

REFUGEES ARE STILL AT LARGE

No Traces Have Been Found
of the Men Who Broke Jail.

Notwithstanding the efforts of Sheriff Bainbridge to locate them up until 4 o'clock this afternoon, nothing has been heard of the three men who escaped from jail here Saturday morning. It is believed that Oliver O. Jones and Obediah Bowman, the two more important refugees, have made for the North and that they will not be caught soon.

Almost every police station in the State has been notified to be on the lookout for the men and descriptions of them have been sent broadcast. It is considered probable that both were well supplied with money by the persons who assisted them to escape and that by this time they are many miles away. Jones received $10 in cash from his brother on Friday, which he gave to the domestic at the jail who had it changed for him.

Last week men employed near the jail noticed that a south window and also the one through which they made their escape was shaded with a newspaper. This enabled the prisoners to work during the day time and when no one was in the vicinity of the jail.

Sheriff Bainbridge has offered a reward of $25 each for the recapture of Jones and Bowman.

It was reported here Saturday afternoon that Tomeris, the Italian, was seen in the neighborhood of Andersonville by a driver of the hack between Rushville and Andersonville. It did not prove to be the man, however. Tomeris is unable to speak a word of English.

Bowman in his letter to his attorneys said he would go to Louisville, Ky., and try to get a pass for Columbus, La., where he has friends whom he expects to help him in giving a bond for his release. He promised the Sheriff that he would return in a few days with the money with which to give bail.

—Greensburg Review: Fred Thomas, Will Smiley and Will Lanham attended a dance at Rushville Friday evening.

Hicks—Of course, every married woman believes that the proper age for matrimony is the age at which she married.

Wicks—Unless she happens to be a widow, and then she hastens to declare that she was entirely too young when she married the first time.

SCHOOLS OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Buildings Have Been Overhauled and Placed in Good Condition.

A Large Enrollment This Year
—List of the Teachers Employed.

The public schools of the city will open one week from today. The organization for the year is complete, the buildings have been put in good sanitary condition, and the teachers are ready for the opening. The pupils fired with high ambitions and urged on by the many noble inspirations received at the Chautauqua are ready to begin the year with the determination to make the most of life. The anxiety of our pupils to begin their year's work speaks well for them. The pupils leaving for college have good words for the school they are leaving behind and by their entering higher are giving to those at their work a greater impulse to continue in school than they can imagine. The school will seek this year to improve over the past year in giving to the pupils knowledge, inspiration and character.

From day to day this week there will appear notices in this paper of interest to patrons and to pupils.

When the school bell will begin to jingle next Monday morning the sound will almost strike terror to many a school boy's heart, because he knows that he will hear that same old sound in the same old place day in and day out for the next nine months, and because of that fact some are gloomy, others are happy over the commencement of school and still there are others who do not express themselves.

The enrollment this year promises to be much larger than it ever has been before, because there will be many new pupils, some who are entering the schoolroom for the first time. In addition to these little people there are several children who have moved here with their parents during the summer.

The organization for the year is as follows:

School Board—Gates Sexton, president; W. M. McBride, treasurer; A. R. Holden, secretary.

Superintendent—J. H. Schell.

Teachers, high school—E. A. Laning, principal; W. A. Stockinger, Mathematics; M. R. McDaniel, Science; Miss Olive Traylor, English; Miss Sylvia Singleton, Latin.

First Ward—Miss Anna Cunningham, 1b and 1a; Miss Alma Odear, 2b and 2a; Miss Mary Lewis, 3b and 3a; Miss Ellen Madden, 4b and 4a; Miss Pearl Kitchen, 5b and 5a; Miss Minnie Hayworth, 6b; Miss Elizabeth Flint, 6a; Miss Nelle Cassidy, 7b, Miss Margaret Cassidy, 7a; Miss Pet Meredith, 8b, Miss Anna Fisher, 8a.

Third Ward—Miss Lois Fritter, 1b; Miss Maye Meredith, 1a; Miss Belle Gregg, principal, 2b and 2a; Miss Nina Ford 3b and 3a; Miss Georgia Morris, 4b and 4a; Miss Margaret Fiechart 5b and 5a.

Colored School—Jas. H. Williams, principal, 5b to 8a; Randall E. Hill, 1b to 4a.

Special Teachers—Miss Ida M. Spurrier, music; Miss Henrietta Coleman, drawing.

Janitors—John T. Kirkpatrick.

First ward; Daniel Spivey, Third ward; Mrs. Somers, colored school.

BOMB IN BARCELONA

Engine of Death Explodes in Crowded Street in Spanish
City.

Barcelona, Sept. 4.—A bomb exploded with terrific force on the marine parade, which was thronged with holiday makers. A panic ensued and the air was rent with the shrieks and groans of the victims who numbered more than forty, including one woman killed and five persons mortally wounded. The bomb was conical in shape and was covered with cement. The perpetrator of the outrage is unknown. One witness states that early in the morning a child was seen to deposit a bomb at the foot of a tree, while another version is that the bomb was placed at the foot of a tree in the afternoon and that the man who was seen to place it there was injured by its premature explosion.

TWO DAMAGE SUITS RESULT

Two People Injured in Recent Wreck Here, Ask Money
For Injuries.

Two damage suits growing out of the wreck in Rushville, August 15th, when a collision at the C. H. & D. and Pennsylvania crossing hurled a locomotive from the track against the station demolishing it, were filed in the Marion county courts. They are filed by Ruby Acrea and Katherine B. Acrea, each asking for $15,000 damages. The suits are brought against the Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western, and the Pittsburgh Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railway. Both women were in the station waiting for a train when the engine struck the building, demolishing it. They claim to have been permanently injured by falling timbers.

LEG BROKEN IN FALL FROM BRIDGE

Board Breaks in Bridge at East
Hill Cemetery and James
Thompson is Injured.

James Thompson is now suffering from a broken leg and severe bruises as the result of a board breaking with him while he was standing upon a bridge in East Hill cemetery, Sunday evening at six o'clock.

Mr. Thompson in company with his wife was walking about the cemetery, and as they came to the bridge which crosses the lake, Mr. Thompson walked to the edge to look out over the water. Mr. Thompson weighs almost 300 pounds, and the board under he was standing upon broke under the weight, and he fell to the ground below. It was fortunate that the man did not fall into the water as he might have had difficulty in regaining the land.

Mrs. Thompson ran for help immediately, but it was almost an hour before medical aid could be summoned. Churchhill's wagon was made into an ambulance and the injured man was taken to his home. Upon examination it was found that the bone was fractured above the ankle in Mr. Thompson's left leg, and he had received several slight bruises, but none of these injuries are thought to be serious.

—Miss Jessie Spann will start Tuesday for Ogden, Utah, where she will teach Latin in the high school of that city. This is Miss Spann's second year in this position.

The Cutter Stock company closed its fair week engagement at the city opera house to a small audience Saturday night with "Deadwood Dick," and left this morning for Rochester, Ind.

ARE WORKING IN EARNEST

Mere Grading Machines and Workmen are Being Procured Daily.

The Bridge Builders and Grade
Contractors are Working Fast as Possible.

The men who have contracted for the grading and bridge building on the eastern extension of the I. & C. traction line seem to realize that cold weather will soon be here, and that then they will not be able to carry on their work as quickly as they are at present. The work is being pushed as rapidly as possible and more men and teams are being secured almost daily.

A large concrete mixer has been placed in use for the work on Flatrock bridge, just east of this city. Another engine is used to pump the water out of the deep holes which have been made for the bases of the big abutments. Workmen were engaged Sunday in dynamiting the stumps which were obstacles in the way of the work, and the reports from these explosions were heard for miles around.

Reports from the site of the Williams Creek bridge are that preparations are being made for still quicker work at this point. Stone crushers and several mixers are in use there and the work is being carried on every day of the week.

One hundred and sixty head of horses and mules have been shipped to different points along the scene of action, and a large number of grading tools were seen between this city and Indianapolis Sunday, which were being transported to a point near Connersville.

The Kepner force of grading men have finished unloading their tools and camping outfits. Mr. Kepner wanted to camp nearer Connersville, as he says the change of camping grounds involves much cost, but it is said the prices asked for camping ground were excessive. It is thought he will settle on the Lou Heeb land, about a mile and a half west.

Another big grading machine was unloaded at Glenwood this morning to be used in the construction work and from all indications it seems that the work is going to be pushed as rapidly as possible.

WORKING ON THE COOK CASE

Grand Jury Convenes Today and Gets Immediately Down to Business.

The grand jury convened this morning about 11 o'clock and then adjourned until 1 p. m., at which time it again convened and went immediately to work on the Cook murder case. Those witnesses examined this afternoon were Dolph Cameron, Ezekiel Priest, Claude Walker, Sadie Smay, Willie Horr, Ralph Bankert, Will Thompson and Joseph Mills. The nature of their testimony is closely guarded. Sadie Smay and other witnesses refused absolutely to discuss the case. Deputy Prosecutor Kiplinger is conducting the investigation and Miss Mae Bebout is acting as stenographer. It is thought that the grand jury will spend at least two or three days on the Cook case. It has a large amount of other work, however, on hands and in order to accomplish its task it will be necessary to work with as much speed as is possible.

WILL OPERATE ON BRAIN

Lad Who is a Notorious Thief
Believed to be Victim of an Accident.

Henry Rosignal, a twelve-year-old boy of Alexandria, will be operated upon by surgeons in the hope of relieving a growing tendency to commit theft. The lad was before Judge McClure in the circuit court at Anderson, and with the consent of his parents was taken in charge by Mrs. DeWiss, of the Juvenile court, who will take him to specialists.

Two years ago the boy suffered a severe fall, alighting on his head. It was thought at the time he was not seriously injured. It developed, however, that his breast bone was somewhat out of place, and it is now believed that at the time he suffered a fracture of the skull, which has caused the pressure on the brain and this is thought to be responsible for his tendency to take other people's property. He has become accustomed to steal money or anything else, regardless of whether he has use for it, and then he gives the money or article to his friends.

Since the last count was announced last Monday, there has been an increase in the votes of several of the candidates. Little Flatrock Christian church, of Noble township, now has a good lead on first place, the Rathbone Sisters' lodge, of this city, not making much of a gain since the last count. Big Flatrock church, of Orange township, has made a good gain and is now in third place and at the present rate of their increase in votes will soon be crowding first or second place.

The leading candidates all have workers in the field and now seem to be in earnest, and all are bound that the one will not outdo the other.

While at the fair last week, the piano was seen by nearly everyone in the country and its good reviews were appreciated by a large crowd at all times.

The piano is now at the Republican office, and if you have not seen it, come around and examine it and see if it is worth the efforts; if it is, the votes can be procured at the Republican office or from the various workers who are hustling for the different candidates.

A wreck between freight No. 92 and No. 93 was narrowly averted on this division of the C. H. & D. one night last week, and the trouble is reported to have ended in the discharge of an employee at the local depot.

Connersville News, Friday: If measured by the barrel, which, however, is not the custom, more than six barrels of Bert Bell's famous ice cream was shipped, up to noon, today to the Rushville fair, there begin shipped 250 gallons and the end is not yet.

OBSERVANCE OF LABOR DAY

Things Were Unusually Quiet
in Rushville Today—
Business Suspended

The Proclamation Issued by Governor Hanley—Laboring Men Rejoiced.

There was a general suspension of business today in Rushville because of the Labor day celebration. Some of the stores of the city closed and the factories shut down for the day. The banks of the city and most of the county and city offices were closed for the day.

There was no big celebration in honor of the occasion. On the contrary the day was unusually quiet in this city. The Labor Day proclamation issued by Governor Hanley is as follows:

By virtue of the authority vested in me by law, and in conformity with long established custom and formal legislative enactment, I, J. Frank Hanley, governor of the State of Indiana, do hereby designate and set apart Monday, September 4th, 1905, as Labor Day, and I do hereby further proclaim the same as a special holiday and recommend that it be observed as such, not only by those who toil but by men and women everywhere throughout the State, whatever their field of labor or their occupation.

This nation, with all it represents, or is, is labor's contribution to present sum of human peace and happiness. Within little more than a hundred years, with the aid of her twin servants, capital and science she carved it out of the depths of primeval forests and the solitude of pathless prairies; bridged its streams, revealed the hidden treasures of its fields and mines, built its villages and towns, established its cities, reared within its borders homes innumerable, and bound them all into one with belts of steel and endless threads of wire. Through the divine ministry of toil the fullness of the land is ours. We live in favored times. The elements of the soil, of the air, and of the sky, and the seasons themselves have conspired with labor to make this a year of immeasurable plenty throughout the nation and especially within our own goodly commonwealth.

It is therefore meet and proper that we set apart this day to celebrate labor's triumphs and to do honor to her children.

Therefore, let the flag—emblem of law and order, and of equality of our citizenship—be publicly displayed. Let public and private business be suspended as far as may be consistent with necessity, and especially let those, so far as practicable, who labor with their hands be released from the performance of their daily tasks in order that they may have one day free from toil and care. Let the spirit of the occasion be such as becomes a glad and joyous celebration of the mighty force that has made us great both as a State and as a nation, and upon which depends the prosperity and happiness of our posterity.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the State of Indiana, at the capital in the city of Indianapolis, this 28th day of August, in the year of our Lord, 1905, of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirtieth and of the admission of the State of Indiana the eighty-ninth.

J. FRANK HANLEY,
Governor of Indiana.

By the Governor:
DANIEL E. STORMS,
Secretary of State.

Jas. H. Williams, the principal of the colored school, will arrive in this city in a few days from Indianapolis, where he has been spending the summer.

The Fayette county fair will be held this week, and many of the shows and stand men who were located here last week, have gone to Connersville, where the fair will be held.

Chinese mandarins and governors, to whom circulars were sent by the Chinese government, say they never heard of such a thing as an American boycott.

All the States in the Union prescribe the death penalty for murder except Maine, Rhode Island, Michigan and Wisconsin. It was abolished in Iowa in 1872, but restored in 1878. It was also abolished in Colorado, but restored in 1901.

The government is really treating the farmer more liberally than it is the resident of the small town. It delivers his mail to the farmer, small matter now where he lives, and does it every day, while the resident of the small town has no such convenience.

Much of the sarcastic comment among Democrats upon the tariff question may be attributed to ignorance and still more possibly—to partisan bias. Take the comments on reciprocity, for instance, based upon the assumption that either Blaine or McKinley advocated anything in common with free trade and that reciprocity as believed in by these thorough-going protectionists contemplated injury to any of our industries. Both of these men explicitly stated that reciprocity should be considered in connection with the tariff question only when a change in the duties would not effect home industry, and yet most of the comments imply that both Blaine and McKinley made concessions to the free traders in their utterances on the subject. Nothing could be further from the truth.

In regard to the question of self-government in the Philippines and the other islands acquired by the United States, the Cincinnati Enquirer makes a point that many very good people never thought of in the following: "We may reasonably presume that the expansionists and other wicked people would find it much easier to rob people of the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico and Guam under the sort of self-government they would be able to conduct than under a government instituted and enforced by the government and people of the United States. Universal honesty under all circumstances cannot be guaranteed, but it is to be feared that some of the critical brethren have not only digested the probability that many of those who are making the loudest outcry for self government in Porto Rico, for example are the very persons who are in pursuit of the public graft."

Yellow Fever's Progress.
New Orleans, Sept. 4.—Reports of yellow fever conditions to 6 p. m. Sunday: New cases, 29; total to date, 2,024; deaths, 3; total to date, 287; new foci, 14; cases under treatment, 305; cases discharged, 1,432.

Japs Display Discontent.
Rome, Sept. 4.—The newspapers here announce that Tokio is displaying discontent with the result of the peace conference and that several cables connecting Japan with the continent have been cut.

INTERESTING CONTEST.

Indianapolis Municipal Campaign Attracts Much Attention.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—Charles A. Bookwalter, Republican candidate for mayor, plans to open his campaign with a big mass meeting at Tomlinson hall about Sept. 10 or 12. He will deliver a speech carefully outlining his position. The speech will take the place of the usual letter of acceptance and is expected to arouse great enthusiasm among his followers. He is now devoting all his time and energy to preparing for the campaign and to all outward appearances is more confident than ever before. The contest here will probably attract more attention from politicians throughout the state than ever before. The Democrats outside are especially anxious for Holtzman to win this time, believing that victory here would inspire the party workers with hope and cause them to start into the state campaign next year with renewed courage. From a party standpoint a Democratic victory was never more desirable. The Republicans will probably not be so much concerned over the effect of the result on the future of the party as they are well organized and apparently more strongly entrenched in state affairs than ever before.

Will Ade, of Kentland, brother of George Ade the famous author and playwright, may become a candidate for the Republican chairmanship of the tenth district. It is said that Will Ade is busy these days investing the money his brother George receives from his plays and fables and he may conclude that he hasn't time to devote to the "grand old party's" interests if business keeps up for the literary member of the family. He has invested a large amount for his brother in Benton and Newton county farm lands, which are among the garden spots of Indiana. One of the men who is urging him to become a candidate for district chairman says that he is so jealous of George's interests and so anxious for him to place his easy money where it can't get away that George says he makes him keep an expense account and turn it in regularly for his inspection. That, however, is probably some one's fable, but it is said that Will Ade has been a very shrewd investor for his brother and is naturally very proud of his success. He is regarded as a conservative business man and will probably be a very formidable candidate if he runs.

Newton Booth Tarkington, the well-known Indiana author, is here visiting his parents. He and Mrs. Tarkington will leave tomorrow for Capri, off the coast of Italy to remain for an indefinite period. Tarkington will work on some new stories and a couple of new plays, but he declared emphatically that he will not attempt to dramatize any more of his books. The suggestion that he might seem to strike him as funny and he was evidently enjoying a hearty laugh at the failure of "The Gentleman From Indiana," as a stage character. He would give no hint as to what his plays will be like except that they will be comedies. "The Gentleman From Indiana," contrary to expectations failed to make a hit behind the footlights and it will probably not be revived this season.

FATE IN DOUBT.

Portion of Crew of Wrecked Lake Steamer Probably Lost.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 4.—Five men who left the wreck of the steamer Sevona in a small boat are believed to have been lost in the furious gale that has been prevailing on Lake Superior. Another boat containing eleven people, including four women passengers, reached shore after battling with the heavy seas all Friday night, during which time all suffered terribly from cold and exposure. Six members of the crew, including the captain, two mates, two wheelmen and a deck hand, are still on the wreck and it is feared they may succumb before assistance reaches them. The Sevona, which was bound from Allouez to Erie with a cargo of iron, ran ashore during the gale Friday night on York Island, far out in Lake Superior. Soon after striking the boat broke in two, the after end sinking in deep water. Two boats at once put off from the doomed craft.

Where the Danger Lies.
Berlin, Sept. 4.—Dr. Nocht, harbor physician for the government, in reply to inquiries made concerning cholera, telegraphs as follows: "The trans-shipment of Russian emigrants having been suspended at Hamburg further cholera infection is improbable." The opinion is expressed in Berlin that the United States seaboard has more to fear from emigrants shipping at Trieste than from German ports, as cholera is already present in Austria Poland.

A "Dry" County Seat.

Lagrange, Ind., Sept. 4.—The anti-saloon people of this city have succeeded in securing a remonstrance that will put all of the saloons out of business, and when this is done Lagrange will be one of the few county seat towns in the state that is "dry."

Will Wipe Out Insults.

Hong Kong, Sept. 4.—Consul General Lay at Canton has demanded an apology from the viceroy for the insulting posters displayed at that place. The viceroy has given ample assurance that the leaders will be arrested and severely punished.

FROM THE MIKADO

Emperor of Japan Expresses His Gratitude to Roosevelt.

A MESSAGE OF THANKS

For the High Part the President Played Japan's Ruler Shows Grateful Appreciation.

Warm Praise For Disinterested Efforts in the Interests of Peace and Humanity.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 4.—President Roosevelt has received from the Emperor of Japan the following message of thanks and appreciation for the part played by the President in the negotiations which have resulted in a cessation of hostilities in the far East:

"Tokio, Sept. 3, 1905.—The president: I have received with gratification your message of congratulation conveyed through our plenipotentiaries and thank you warmly for it. To your disinterestedness and unremitting efforts in the interests of peace and humanity I attach the high value which is their due and assure you of my grateful appreciation of the distinguished part you have taken in the establishment of peace based upon principles essential to the permanent welfare and tranquility of the far East.

The cablegram from the Japanese emperor puts an end to the rumors that the emperor was dissatisfied with the terms finally concluded by his plenipotentiaries with those of the emperor of Russia. The concluding sentence of the cablegram is especially significant. It evidently voices the belief of the Japanese emperor that the treaty about to be concluded at Portsmouth will be for a permanent peace.

It can be said that the president has expressed no anxiety at the delay of the cablegram from the emperor of Japan. It was known here that the terms finally concluded at Portsmouth were dictated by the Japanese emperor or himself and that they could not be otherwise than satisfactory to him and his advisers. The delay in responding to the Japanese plenipotentiaries was due, it is surmised, to the desire of the emperor to be assured that the terms agreed upon would be incorporated into a treaty, without the probability of a serious hitch. That assurance, it is said, was conveyed to the Japanese emperor Saturday upon the practical conclusion of the draft of the treaty. The cablegram to President Roosevelt followed in natural course.

Information reaching the president from Portsmouth indicates that the treaty will be concluded formally and signed early this week, maybe this afternoon. The substance of the treaty is being reduced to engrossed form, in two texts, English and French. As soon as this formality shall have been completed the convention so important not only to the two belligerent powers, but to the civilized world, will be signed by the plenipotentiaries of the two governments directly in interest, and will pass into history as the Treaty of Portsmouth.

MESSAGE TO ARMY.

How the Czar Broke the News to Gen. Linevitch.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 4.—The emperor on Friday last telegraphed the following to Gen. Linevitch: "The negotiations at Portsmouth led on Aug. 19 to a refusal of the demands of the Japanese government regarding the cession of the island of Sakhalin, the payment of a war indemnity, surrender of our ships lying in neutral harbors and the limitation of our forces in the waters of the Pacific ocean. After further negotiations Japan on Aug. 29 yielded all our conditions, but asked for the return of that portion of Sakhalin occupied by Japanese troops, which is the part held by Japan until 1875 and then ceded by treaty to Russia.

"The self-sacrificing army so dear to me withstood the assault of a numerically superior army in Manchuria step by step during nineteen months, obstinately repulsing his advance. Under your leadership the army was reorganized and strengthened by the arrival of troops from Russia, and is now greater in numbers and stronger than before. It was not only prepared to ward off the enemy, but also to inflict upon him an important defeat.

"I and all Russia believe in the strength of my glorious army and in its readiness to sacrifice itself for the good of the fatherland, but my duty to me by God commands me not to again put to the test the valor of Russian men so dear to my heart and not to expose them to fresh and endless horrors of war in order to retain half of a remote island which Japan ceded to us in 1875, and I have therefore accepted the preliminary peace conditions.

"The Russian troops have repeatedly proved during this sanguinary conflict valor and self-sacrifice.

"Convey this to my dear army. May it know that I and Russia value the sacrifices which it has made in this severe war."

State Fair Transportation.

Visitors from over Indiana to the State Fair, which opens at Indianapolis on September 11th, will find that the steam and electric roads to that city have arranged for fine transportation facilities. The rate on the steam roads will be one fare for the round trip, good all the week, from all points in the State. When visitors reach Indianapolis they can take their choice of three fast lines from the city to the fair grounds—the Illinois street, Central avenue or College avenue. As crowds require it, cars over the city lines will arrive at the gates about a minute apart. All the interurban lines running into Indianapolis, including the L. & C. traction line from Rushville, will have special cars in operation. The last car of the L. & C. leaves the terminal station at eleven o'clock. It is thought that the good transportation facilities, the low railroad rates and the big exposition will draw an immense crowd of Indiana people to the Hoosier capital.

Curtain About to Ring Down on the Last Act at Portsmouth

TREATY IS COMPLETED

All That Remains Now Is For the Plenipotentiaries to Affix Their Official Signatures.

Interesting Details Attending the Important Work of Engraving the Treaty.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—The seventeenth and concluding article of the treaty provides that the exchange of ratifications shall occur within fifty days after its signing by the plenipotentiaries. If the Russians are ready the treaty will be signed this afternoon at 5 o'clock, this date having been suggested by Baron Komura. Otherwise the treaty will be signed Tuesday morning.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—The peace treaty between Russia and Japan has been completed. The last revision of the earlier drafts has been made and there is nothing now to be done except for the secretaries to complete the engrossment of the treaty and for the envoys to formally attach their signatures.

The plenipotentiaries and the attaches of the two missions seem to be fully as anxious for the curtain to ring down on the final act of the drama as the little colony of newspaper correspondents and summer guests who are waiting to be "in at the death." The work of engrossing the treaty is now all but completed. Mr. Rojstvensky doing the calligraphic work of the French and Mr. Adashi of the English text. Controversies over the phraseology still continue and several conferences have occurred between Mr. De Martens and Mr. Dennison, differences being referred for adjustment to the principals. The Japanese are proving great sticklers for words. They cling tenaciously to their ideas. Careful preparation and methods have been the secret of their success on land and sea and in their diplomatic struggles at Portsmouth the same qualities have been displayed.

In the sittings of the conference Baron Komura always stated the Japanese position upon a given point briefly but with great care, and when Mr. Witte, whose method was entirely different, would try to draw out explanations he would stick doggedly to the statement he had made. Mr. Witte, a man of affairs, resourceful and talented as he is admitted to be, had his case in his head. He never brought any papers with him. He met everything which came up in an official way weighing it instantly in his mind, analyzing it, arguing the logic pro and con and stating his view quite bluntly, never asking for time to consider.

Baron Komura on the other hand could with the greatest difficulty be induced to enter the region of argument. He stuck to the brief before him. Speaking always quite slowly he would repeat over and over again what he had stated as if he had learned his lesson by rote. Several times Mr. Witte would say: "Yes, I understand perfectly what you say, but what do you mean, what is your real object?"

Then Baron Komura would go back and restate his proposition almost exactly as he had done originally. Both systems had their advantages. By insisting, insisting, insisting, Baron Komura would sometimes catch Mr. Witte off his guard and provoke him into statements which were always eagerly seized upon. As a final resort Baron Komura was always ready with a written solution of a question and would produce it suddenly, saying: "This is what we propose. What have you got to offer?" Then the value of preparation and foresightfulness was apparent. Mr. Witte seldom had a crystallized counter proposition to make. But on the other hand, whenever Mr. Witte succeeded in leading his adversary into the realm of argument where previous preparation prevailed nothing, he had Baron Komura at a disadvantage.

Disputants Caught by Car.

Louisville, Sept. 4.—One negro was killed, two fatally and a fourth seriously injured by a street car south of Louisville last night. The negroes were on a Seventh street car bound for a park and began fighting when two miles out of the city. The car was stopped and all four ejected, but they recommenced the fight and while standing on the tracks a car bound for the city dashed into the combatants with the result noted.

NO COMPROMISE IN MANLOVE CASE

Unauthorized Statement Made in a Special to the Star From Richmond.

A special from Richmond to Saturday morning's Indianapolis Star is as follows:

"A compromise has been effected in the Manlove will case, which was brought to Wayne county for trial from Fayette county, where most of the interested parties reside. An estate valued at nearly $100,000 is involved in the suit. The case was tried a year ago in the Fayette circuit court and was won by the contestants, but the Supreme court ordered a new trial and by agreement the case was venued to Wayne county.

Saturday's Connersville News says: Messrs. Florea & Broadbudd, attorneys for plaintiffs in the Manlove will case say there is absolutely no truth in the above statement so far as they know and a compromise could not occur without the knowledge and consent of their clients. At the Manlove store on Central avenue, Mr. Emory Manlove being one of the contestants, a similar statement was made. Mr. L. L. Broadbudd says that the case will come up for a hearing at Richmond on September 18th and everything will be in readiness for trial.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Thousands Attracted to National Meeting at Denver.

Denver, Colo., Set. 4.—The thirty-ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic began in this city today. The city is crowded with guests and heavily loaded trains are arriving from all directions. Members of the local executive committee persist in their belief that the coming encampment will be the largest in the history of the organization.

At the headquarters and in the lobbies of hotels already is heard the discussion of the election of officers and the place of the next meeting. There are five candidates for the office of commander-in-chief, namely, Corp. James Tanner of New York, Robert Brown of Ohio, Col. Borroughs of New Jersey, ex-Congressman Charles Burton and Gen. George A. Stone of California. Four cities are in the race for the 1906 encampment. They are Chattanooga, Tenn., Columbus, O., Minneapolis and Buffalo.

Some of the important business to be considered by the encampment in its secret sessions, which begin on Thursday morning, will be proposed changes in the constitution and recommendations to the congressional committee. The latter will be asked to endeavor to have congress pass a new service pension bill that will have no age limit. One proposition is to pension the veterans of the civil war, whether injured or not, on a per diem basis; that is to say, a certain amount for each day of service.
